GOP Can Win With Right Program: Eisenhower

President Says Party Needs Strengthening

Answers Wide Range of Questions At News Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today that the Republicans can win in 1956 with any presidential candidate worthy of the position if they put through a program that is good for all Americans.

It was his answer to a news conference question whether he agrees with Vice President Richard M. Nixon that the GOP cannot win next year without Mr. Eisenhower.

The President agreed that the Republican party needs strengthening. He said that the enactment of programs for the benefit of all Americans is the kind of thing that will put the GOP over.

Mr. Eisenhower did not indicate whether he will be a candidate for reelection. But he did observe at one point that he had never gone into any kind of a fight feeling that he had all the strength that he would like to have.

The President was alternately jocular and serious as he answered a wide range of news conference questions running from the Senate stock market investigation to the possibility of war in Asia.

Here's what he had to say:

Stock market: The conduct of the stock market, on the whole, seems satisfactory. He said the Senate investigation seems to be proceeding with the caution which is needed in anything which touches on the economy of the country.

Asian war prospects: Mr. Eisenhower said the possibility of conflict is much greater today than it was many years ago when the world lived in an atmosphere of confidence. He said there always is a possibility of war, and that is why this country should always strive to maintain a respectable posture of defense.

Guaranteed wage: He would not comment specifically on the CIO demand for a guaranteed annual wage in the automobile industry. But he reminded reporters that he has several times urged better unemployment insurance to relieve local distress situations.

Taxes: Senate rejection of the Democratic proposal for an income tax cut brought from the President a single response—Hurrah!

Civil defense: He sees no reason why small nuclear weapons, limited strictly to military targets, shouldn't be used the same as conventional bullets in any new outbreak of war.

Automation: He believes that the danger that technological improvements will throw people out of work often is exaggerated. He said history has shown that in an expanding economy there always is more work to be done to fulfill the needs and desires of the people.

Security: He believes it wouldn't be possible in every case to let government employees who are tagged as security risks face their accusers. But he believes the government can find non-sensitive positions into which such people could be placed rather than firing them from the government payroll.

Dr. Janes Outlines Community Trend in Kiwanis Club Address

An analysis of the community trend in Harrisburg and Saline county in population, economic activity and the activity of the associations within the community, was given to members of the Kiwanis club and special guests last night at the Masonic temple by Dr. Robert Janes of the sociology department of the University of Illinois.

Dr. Janes for the past six months has been making a survey of communities in southern Illinois from a base at Shawneetown.

Dr. Janes emphasized an analysis only gives the trends of the community, and that solving the problem is up to the people of the area themselves.

He pointed out that there has been a slow decline in population since 1930 in Harrisburg which is unique in that it does not follow the trend of other towns of approximate size in the state and for communities in the county.

In economic activity here Dr. Janes stated the income distribution is not very bright. He stated that in 1950 the average income per family was $2,271, with 44 percent receiving less than $2,000 per family and only 11 per cent more than $5,000 per family in annual income.

Farm Values Below Average

This was typical for southern Illinois, he said, but a lower level than most other areas.

In agriculture in 1950 there were 1800 farms in Saline county, but only half of these were commercial as the other half lived on farms but worked elsewhere. Of the commercial farms the income was below average and the farm values were also below average for the state.

Any improvement in farm economy, he said, must come from farm price stability and improved production.

In mining, he said, the trend has been to reduced employment which also reduces income, not only for the workers, but for the merchants and other services.

Some new sources of employment must be found, Dr. Janes said, and the only source is in manufacturing. Only six per cent of workers are now employed in manufacturing he said.

Offer Inducements
All communities in southern Illinois are endeavoring to increase industry. Dr. Janes said, but he added the area is not recommended to industry as a whole and communities are finding it necessary to seek out manufacturers and offering inducements.

The activities of the associations

Truck Loaded With Bananas Overturns on Rt. 45

A huge truck loaded with 24,900 pounds of bananas overturned on Route 45 a mile south of Harrisburg last night. The driver and owner, John David James, 42, of Kennesaw, Ga., was not hurt.

James told Sheriff William T. Barrett and Deputy Sheriff Everett N. Sneed that he was driving north and because of a strong wind reached over to roll up a glass window in the cab.

When he did so, he said, a wheel went off the concrete onto a soft and muddy shoulder. He traveled down the road about 500 feet trying to get back on but the truck was pulled farther away from the slab, finally running into a ditch and turning over on its side. A telephone pole was clipped off by the truck.

The county officers said James told them there were 395 stalks of bananas in the trailer, that they were en route from Miami, Fla., to Grand Rapids, Mich. The cargo remained intact inside the trailer, and its condition was not immediately determined.

James stayed at a Harrisburg hotel last night and his truck was still on the side of the road this morning.

Approve Bill to Prevent Pilots from Taking Off in Bad Weather

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — A bill to empower Illinois airport operators to prevent pilots from taking off in bad weather was approved Tuesday by the Senate Aeronautics committee.

Sen. David Davis told the committee there is nothing in the law now to prevent an unqualified pilot from flying in bad weather and perhaps killing himself and his passengers.

"We've had several examples of this very recently," the Blooming-ton Republican said. He referred to several fatal crashes in Illinois in recent weeks.

Eisenhower Subs for Mamie at Flower Show and Sedate Event Loses Calm

By MERRIMAN SMITH
WASHINGTON (AP) — Flower shows normally are sedate. Calm, that is, until a President of the United States comes to call.

Then brick walls collapse, photographers fall into glistening garden pools, garden club ladies get their corsages crushed and men with little alligators shove their alleged pets at the chief executive.

Such was the case here Tuesday when Mr. Eisenhower, subbing for his wife who was back at the White House getting over the flu, visited the National Flower Garden Show at the huge District of Columbia Armory.

Mamie's Garden
The President went first to see "Mamie's Garden," a striking plot of chalk white tulips, boxwoods and blooming dogwood trees set within a serpentine brick wall and flagstone terrace. The garden will be given to the Eisenhower farm at Gettysburg, Pa., by the Allied Florists Assn.

Here the first difficulty developed. One man insisted on giving the President a huge vase brimming with two dozen Happiness roses. He turned the vase over to a Secret Service man who

Finnish Tanker Is Halted by Crew Rebellion

Forces Ship to Quit Course for Communist China

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — A crew rebellion forced the Finnish tanker Aruba to quit its course for Communist China with 13,000 tons of jet fuel today and a company spokesman said the ship now will head for a non-Communist port.

The chief petty officer and three mates joined the crew in a 42-man strike against running the gantlet of Chinese Nationalist warships waiting to seize the Aruba and her cargo of fuel for Red China's Russian-built MIG jets.

Gunnar Damstrom, director of the Re-Be Shipping Co., which owns the Aruba, said the tanker which now is in the Indian ocean will have to call at a non-Communist port. He declined to say which one.

The crewmen demanded the captain stop the ship at Colombo, Ceylon.

Their action was disclosed here by the Finnish Seamen's Union which promised support for their action.

The Chinese Nationalist navy has ordered its ships to capture the tanker should it try to run the blockade of the Communist-held mainland. Nationalist newspapers appealed point blank for the navy to sink the Aruba.

G. Johansson, secretary of the seamen's union, said the Aruba crew cabled two days ago asking union support for a crew movement to halt the Aruba at Colombo, Ceylon, instead of proceeding to China in face of the risks. Johansson promised the powerful union would support the crew.

Informed British sources expressed belief the U. S. government would try to buy the oil from the Finns before it reaches Red China. A precedent was set in 1953 when U. S. officials bought up 10,000 tons of oil aboard the Finnish tanker Wilma bound for Red China but which anchored off Singapore for three months rather than run the Nationalist blockade.

Resume Pumping At Reservoirs; Flush Water Mains

Pumping into the city reservoirs, which went into full swing at 9 a. m. yesterday, stopped at 11:15 a. m. because of bad water coming down Bankston creek as a result of yesterday morning's rain.

However, the water cleared up and pumping was resumed at 5 p. m. The pumps were still going today. The creeks were still up due to backwater but the stage was about 18 inches below the crest this morning.

Last night's rain measured .40 inch.

Amos Doom, water and sewer department head, said that the city last night started flushing out the mains from fire hydrants and that the operation will continue for several nights. Rusty water and some sediment may result from this action, Doom pointed out, but said the mains needed flushing badly.

peted, "Hey you, don't do that." A lady stuck her head from behind a hedge and shrieked at the poor man who was trying to clamber out of the water. "You ought to be ashamed of yourself."

Remember the Patent Office
Ladies pushed and shoved to get near Mr. Eisenhower who took all the fuss with good humor. One lady loped along behind the presidential group, calling out at frequent intervals, "Don't forget the Patent Office."

After several yelps, investigation proved that she didn't want the President to pass up the floral display of the Patent Office which patents about 80 new flowers a year. The President visited and approved.

Then, on his way out of the building, he stopped to view a jungle exhibit, standing in the midst of which was a man with a live alligator about three feet long. The man pushed the "gator" toward the chief executive.

Mr. Eisenhower fixed a steely eye on the reptile, warning with cautious humor, "He's not going to bite me, by gum." Then the President returned to the White House and such workaday routine as war and taxes.

Company, Union Officials Meet With Stratton

Mass Meeting Will Be Held At Marion Tonight

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Company and union officials reported the picture was "unchanged" today after a conference with Gov. William G. Stratton about the Sangamo Electric Co. strike at Marion.

In response to a reporter's question, however, Sangamo President C. H. Lanphier said he was "very hopeful" that something could be worked out to get the plant, closed by a month-long strike, back in operation.

Lanphier and John Margando, Gillespie, international representative of the AFL International Association of Machinists, met for an hour with Stratton at his request. The governor sought to head off company plans to close the plant permanently, announced when union members refuse to end the strike.

Asked about the outcome, Lanphier said "the offer and the situation are unchanged." Margando

SANGAMO WORKERS TO HEAR RESULTS OF TALKS

The recording secretary of Lodge 1986, International Association of Machinists, whose members have been employed at the Sangamo plant at Marion, today announced that the members tonight will hear a report on a conference among Sangamo officials, union representatives and Gov. William G. Stratton held at 11 a. m. today at Springfield.

All members were asked to attend this special call meeting, to be held at seven o'clock tonight in the Marion Junior high school gymnasium.

agreed. They pointed out that the union has called a mass meeting at Marion tonight.

Governor Thanks Officials
Stratton said he was "very appreciative" of the fact that both officials "came in in the public interest" and was "very pleased" with their attitude and willingness to discuss the problems involved.

Lanphier issued a statement as he entered the conference saying the Marion plant would be reopened if the strike was ended.

Sangamo announced previously it was closing the Marion plant, which employed 1,200 persons, because workers wouldn't go back to their jobs.

Lanphier said that after the strike began Feb. 10, a number of meetings were held between company and union officials and A. M. Thompson of the Federal Conciliation Service.

Charges Meetings Fail
These meetings, he said, brought about no change in the company contract proposal, which union members rejected last Friday night.

"This compelled the company to give written notice of employment termination of the production and maintenance employees and closure of the plant," Lanphier said.

"The company is in the process of moving certain operations and plans are under way for complete removal of all equipment and inventory."

"If prior to complete dismantling of the plant the employees elect to return under the contract terms rejected March 11, 1955, the company will rescind the termination of their employment and re-

Playboys Named by Girl at Trial Of Mickey Jelke

NEW YORK (AP)—Pat Ward, calm and confident, today named more of the cafe society playboys to whom she sold her favors for money, allegedly at the behest of oleo heir Minot (Mickey) F. Jelke.

The names included a "Mr. Auerbach," "Jack Friedman," and "Bill Harrison." She testified that she had intimate relations with all three men and that they paid her money.

The slim, black haired Miss Ward appeared much more sure of herself on the witness stand than she was late Tuesday when she collapsed in tears and forced Judge Francis L. Valente to adjourn the session.

The first hour of today's session was taken up while attorneys for both sides discussed with Valente the report of juror Max Cohen that he was approached Tuesday night by a newspaper reporter who questioned him about a Manhattan property he owns. As a result, Valente dismissed Cohen and replaced him with an alternate.

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—Bank teller George A. French, who confessed he embezzled $6,000 to play a tavern pin ball machine, was sentenced Tuesday to 18 months in prison.

French pleaded guilty, saying he took the money from the Southern Illinois National bank over a five-year period and spent it on a pin-ball machine in a nearby tavern. French was employed at the bank for 17 years before the shortage in his accounts was discovered last Jan. 24.

Births

To TE2 and Mrs. Jack L. Borders of Japan, a boy named Jeffery Lee, weighing six pounds, six ounces, born March 7 in the U. S. Naval hospital in Tokusaka, Japan. The mother is the former Shirley Davis. Both are former residents of Harrisburg.

"Building Roads Together," will be presented by the stewardship committee with Mrs. F. G. Burnett, the leader. All circle members are especially invited to attend.

House Tosses Tax Cut Differences To Conferees

By United Press
The House tossed its tax differences with the Senate into the lap of a conference committee today.

It voted unanimously to give its representatives on the committee a free hand in debate with Senate members over whether income taxes should be cut.

By so doing the House avoided an immediate showdown, both with the Senate and between its own Democratic and Republican members.

The House has approved, 210-205, a Democratic proposal to cut taxes $20 per person. Senate Democrats offered a watered down compromise which the Senate rejected late Tuesday.

The Senate then approved an administration bill to extend excise and corporation taxes at present rates and sent the bill back to the House. The conference committee will now go to work on it.

Other congressional news:

PERESS, Maj. Curtis R. Kirkland, former Army adjutant, told senators he was partly to blame for an "administrative error" which enabled Irving Peress to get and hold an Army commission despite his refusal to sign loyalty oath forms. He said the case of Peress, New York dentist, slipped past him in a flood of paper work.

HARLAN: President Eisenhower's nomination of John Marshall Harlan to the Supreme Court was called up for debate in the Senate. Leaders of both parties predicted approval before nightfall although a small group of senators, mostly southern Democrats, planned to oppose the nomination.

STOCKS: Senate investigators were told their inquiry into the stock market boom is "pretty good insurance against a crash." Financial Writer J. A. Livingston told the Banking Committee that "only by watching ourselves — by regenerating some of the caution which prevailed in the early postwar period — can we guard against another serious bust."

Bevan Expelled From British Labor Party

LONDON (AP)—Left-wing Laborite Aneurin Bevan, this nation's most persistent critic of the United States, was expelled today from Labor Party ranks in Parliament in a major British political upheaval.

But the vote to put Bevan in the parliamentary cooler was carried by only 141 votes to 112, an unexpectedly close margin. It came after an amendment proposing he only be rebuked was turned down. The compromise amendment to let Bevan off with a rebuke was defeated by a vote of only 138-124.

His fellow socialists reaffirmed their confidence in the party leadership of former Prime Minister Clement Attlee, a moderate who steers clear of left-wing policies which made Bevan the most controversial figure of British politics.

The expulsion was punishment for Bevan's brash and brawling long-time challenge to Attlee's command—a challenge that culminated two weeks ago in a public scene on the floor of the House of Commons. Bevan, in public, showed contempt for Attlee's leadership.

The majority vote cast the silver-tongued but impetuous Welsh Laborite into political wilderness—a lone wolf in Parliament without a party. It may start his slide into limbo, or it may spur him to greater efforts to win the party reins.

The party struggle was a severe one for Labor and neutral politicians say it may take British Socialism three years to recover from the deep chasm between Bevan and his followers and the moderates who back Attlee.

It may have cost the Socialists victory in the next general elections, expected during the coming year.

It was the second time Bevan was expelled. In 1939 he was boot-ed out for nine months for trying to start a popular front with the Communists against fascism. This time the ostracism may stick long-er.

Union Prayer Meeting Tonight at Carrier Mills

The Union Prayer meeting of the Carrier Mills churches will be held today at 7 p. m. at the New Social Brethren church on Carrier Mills Route 45. Rev. Ernest Ammon will deliver the message.

The churches in Carrier Mills have met together one night a month for the past two months at different churches, with different ministers preaching the sermon, and plan to continue. This is sponsored by the Carrier Mills Ministerial Alliance.

Be Active in Party,
Rev. Van Hoose Urges Young GOP

"Age for strategy . . . youth for action" was the theme of a fiery talk by Rev. A. D. Van Hoose at last night's meeting of the Saline County Young Republican club, held at the city hall.

"It is the responsibility of groups such as this to move young men and women to become active in the interest of their government," Rev. Van Hoose told the group. A candidate for representative in Congress last year, Rev. Van Hoose has just returned from a conference of radio broadcasters and cabinet members in Washington, D. C., where he was one of 81 radio broadcasters selected to attend the conference, and where he was present at the president's breakfast for the group.

Temporary Young Republican chairman J. D. Vaughn introduced John W. Biggers, Republican candidate for state's attorney, who made a few remarks to the crowd before introducing the main speaker. Biggers also introduced township candidates present, including Bill Roberts, candidate for road commissioner of Harrisburg township, and Bob Lane, candidate for road commissioner of Cottage township. M. R. Williams, candidate for park board member, was unable to attend the meeting.

Chairman Vaughn announced that the next meeting would be held April 1 at 7:30 in the council room of the city hall.

Mobile Unit Has Goal to Chest X-Ray Every Person Over 15 in TB Drive

The goal of the county-wide chest x-ray program, which opened here on March 15 and will continue through March 19, is the x-raying of every resident 15 years of age or over.

Many may ask why x-ray yet apparently healthy? Did you know that people can look and feel well and still have tuberculosis? Did you know that TB may have no outward symptoms in its early stage? By the time the symptoms which all recognize appear—loss of weight, coughing, spitting blood—chances are the disease is in an advanced stage, difficult to cure. Any active case of TB can spread germs.

Whatever the outcome of a person's chest x-ray, he has nothing to lose and everything to gain. If his x-ray is clear, he will know his lungs are healthy. If tuberculosis is discovered, he knows he can take steps toward checking the disease before his illness becomes more serious. X-ray program officials report that the majority of cases found during such a project are in an early stage. And the earlier tuberculosis is found, the easier it is to cure and the quicker the patient can return to a normal, useful life.

Four HTHS Students Paint Murals on Walls Of School Buildings

Four students in the fourth year art class at the Harrisburg Township high school have recently begun work on murals which they are painting on walls and over doorways in the buildings.

The four seniors under the direction of Miss K. Rice who are painting the murals are Lucretia Winkler, Gary Trammel, Jerry Walker, and Dick Carnett. Lucretia chose an English village as the theme of her mural which features a small inn, beautiful scenery, and many colorful characters. Gary is painting as the theme of his mural a fall scene of the Ohio river as it is seen from Cave-in-Rock. The death of Julius Caesar including the Roman buildings and the conspirators was chosen by Jerry Walker as the theme of his mural, and Dick Carnett is painting a fall scene of a farm with a frame house and barn set amidst a group of trees.

call employees, as needed, to return to jobs then available on the basis of seniority and prior experience on the jobs in operation.

Some Will Move

"Certain operations will be moved whether or not the employees elect to return to work. In the event of the reopening of the plant, the company makes no representation concerning how long the plant will be operated."

Asked where certain company operations were to be moved, however, Lanphier said some would be moved to the Sangamo Springfield plant.

"We've not finally decided where the others will be moved," he said.

Sangamo also has plants in England and Canada, Lanphier said.

In Washington, Democratic Illinois Congressman Kenneth J. Gray Tuesday called a mass meeting of strikers for tonight at Marion, to try to persuade them to accept a settlement.

Gray said he wants the workers to accept a company offer of two cents an hour, rejected last week. He said he will offer some proposals of his own, which he didn't reveal.

"My whole effort is to keep the plant in the area," Gray said.

William W. Downey, administrative aide to Stratton, said the same motive prompted Stratton to act. He said the governor wants to keep the plant in southern Illinois "where they need economic help."

It was disclosed by Downey Tuesday that state police had been alerted to protect Marion plant manager H. L. Kunz and his wife.

Downey said Kunz requested protection after his wife got a phone call at their Carbondale home threatening her and her husband.

Downey said Kunz reported the caller also threatened to burn down the plant and the Kunz home.

Iowa Man is Named to AEC

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower today nominated Allen Whitfield, Des Moines, Iowa, attorney, to be a member of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Whitfield, a 51-year-old Republican, was nominated to replace Joseph Campbell.

Campbell resigned as an AEC member when he was nominated to be comptroller general. Whitfield was nominated for the remainder of a term expiring June 30.

Whitfield served in the Army during World War II and is a trustee of two Iowa colleges, Simpson and Iowa State.

Today's appointment, when it is confirmed, will bring the AEC to its full five-man strength for the first time in months.

Another vacancy was filled Monday when the Senate confirmed Mr. John Von Neumann to the membership vacated last summer by Eugene M. Zuckert.

Other members are Lewis L. Strauss, chairman; Dr. Willard F. Libby, and Thomas E. Murray.

Dr. Jones Outlines Community Trend

within the community are the "heart" of the community and the source of its energy, Dr. Jones stated.

In associations, he said, Harrisburg is close to average, but because of the decline in population there is a lack of younger members.

Dr. Jones pointed out that community development associations are growing in areas where there is a low economy because they can help point out the needs of the community.

"What is done by the community is up to the people of that community," Dr. Jones stated.

Must Meet Own Problems

"Only the people themselves are interested in their community and the ultimate fate of the community is up to the people to meet their own problems," he added.

The people of a community must first realize something must be done and then the entire community must be mobilized, Dr. Jones said. Then standards will be set for community life and efforts will not die out, he said.

Facilities which industry looks for in a community where it plans to locate were listed by Dr. Jones as follows: Schools, housing, associations available for employees, cultural and recreational opportunities, health, welfare and hospital facilities, local government and taxes and local social problems.

Members and guests at the meeting showed quite an interest in Dr. Jones' talk and many questions were asked following his address.

Special guests present were Bob and Tom Davenport, guests of their father, L. N. Davenport, John R. Small, Vern Joyner Jr., Robert Rushing, Jack Davenport, Julian Valette, a visiting Kiwanian from Edwardsville, and Lt. Governor Ray Owens from Marion and three other members of the Marion club.

President Dan Davis announced that the meeting next week will be boys' and girls' night and Kiwanians will have as their guests a boy or girl for whom a special program will be provided.

Senate Committee Approves Changes In School Bus Rules

SPRINGFIELD — A series of bills broadening the regulation of Illinois school buses has cleared its first legislative hurdle.

The Senate Highways Committee Tuesday approved the measures despite vigorous objection from the Illinois Bus Assn. and state police.

Principal effect of the proposed changes would be to apply school bus regulations to the buses when used to carry pupils to athletic events, trips to museums, and other non-school transportation.

Harold M. Olsen, representing the Illinois Bus Assn., said the bills would "be just another step in employing school buses for charter operations." The result would be more competition for regular bus lines that depend on non-scheduled operations for much of their revenue, he said.

Ervin Warren, assistant state police superintendent, said it would be difficult to enforce laws requiring that motorists stop for the loading or unloading of school buses if the laws applied to non-school buses.

"You can't expect motorists to respect school buses" if they are used for other activities, Warren said.

AROUND SPRINGFIELD

By DON E. CHAMBERLAIN

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (Special) — It seems pretty certain now the State of Illinois is going to get a new slogan. It has been known as "The Sucker State," "The Prairie State" and sometimes as "The Flatlands." But bills in Congress and the Illinois General Assembly would associate it with Lincoln. Congressional legislation would make it "Illinois—Land of Lincoln" and the Assembly just plain "Land of Lincoln."

Congressional legislation is sponsored by U. S. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, Pekin, and has the backing of Secretary of State Charles E. Carpenter, R., East Moline. It would give the state copyright status on "Illinois—Land of Lincoln." State Sen. Fred Hart, Ottawa, is sponsor of a state senator proposal to make just plain "Land of Lincoln" the official state slogan.

State Rep. Hubert D. Considine, D., Harmon, and Rep. Clyde Choate, D., Anna, congressional medal of honor winner and Democrat, who of the Illinois House, have teamed up on a project for the uplift of young America. They envision an annual affair whereby Illinois teenagers would compete in baseball, the winner to get a trip to New York to play against a team of New York teenagers.

Considine said he's ready to sponsor a team from Harmon and that Choate will do likewise at Anna. Considine said he has been assured of the cooperation of New York Mayor Robert Wagner Jr., and of a cousin, Bob Considine, war correspondent and radio commentator. The trip to New York for the baseball game and sightseeing would take place in late summer or early fall.

The question as to whether the General Assembly should pass legislation requiring automobile manufacturers to equip new cars with hooks for safety belts will be given an airing here on March 23 before a House Motor Vehicles subcommittee, headed by Rep. H. B. Ihnen, R., Quincy. Rep. Ralph Stephenson, R., Moline, is sponsor of the legislation.

New records for issuance of motor vehicle license plates are being set by Secretary of State Carpenter. As of the first of this month car registrations were 400,000 ahead of the year previous. Carpenter said the number of licenses already issued for 1955 is approaching the 3,000,000 mark. Passenger car registrations, he said, are 360,000 ahead of a year ago.

Dayton Eliminates St. Louis, 97-81; St. Francis Ousts Holy Cross, 68-64

NEW YORK — Spunky St. Francis of Loretto, Pa., led by cat-like all-around star Maurice Stokes, found itself today the only unseeded team in the semi-finals of the National Invitation Tournament, but mighty worried about Dayton's high fliers.

"I only hope Dayton isn't too tall for us," fretted Coach Skip Hughes of St. Francis after both clubs had scored stirring victories at Madison Square Garden Tuesday night to qualify for a meeting in the semi-final round on Thursday.

St. Francis ousted third-seeded Holy Cross, the defending champion, in a 68-64 thriller and second-seeded Dayton used its skyscraping height to rack up a 97-81 victory over St. Louis, the team that smashed the tourney-scoring record in the opening round.

Heinsohn Brilliant

Thursday's other semi-final will match top-seeded Duquesne against fourth-seeded Cincinnati. The winners will meet in the final round on Saturday, with the losers meeting in a consolation game. Holy Cross, despite its seeding and status as a defending champion, was a one-point underdog. The Crusaders, sparked by 6-foot-7 Tom Heinsohn, rallied from an eight-point deficit to assume a 34-32 half-time lead and continued to lead until Stokes led a drive that put the Frankies ahead, 57-56, with six minutes left.

St. Francis upped its lead to 64-58 and then played ball control to hold the advantage successfully. The cold statistics in the duel between Heinsohn and Stokes favored the Crusader: 28 points to 21, 23 rebounds to 19. But Stokes had more effective support—particularly from Emil Wandishin, who sank three baskets and six-for-six on free throws in the second half drive. Thus, Heinsohn was weary in the fourth quarter from his "one man gang" efforts; Stokes was fresh and still sharp.

Briefs from Training Camps

SLUGGER FRANK THOMAS ONLY PIRATE HOLDOUT

FORT MYERS, Fla. — Pitcher Vernon Law agreed to terms with the Pittsburgh Pirates today leaving slugger Frank Thomas the team's only remaining holdout.

General Manager Branch Rickey revealed that Law, who had a 9-13 record in 1954, is en route from his Meridian, Idaho, home. Law informed Rickey that he had been working out and was in good physical condition.

The Pirates were idle today following Tuesday's 9-7 loss to the Cincinnati Redlegs—their first of the spring on their home field. Ted Kluszewski's ninth-inning broke a 7-7 tie and paved the way for a second run in the winning rally.

CARDINALS SCORE FIFTH VICTORY

BRADENTON, Fla. — Manager Eddie Stanky's "hurry up and get ready" spring policy was paying dividends today with the St. Louis Cardinals sporting a glittering 5-1 Grapefruit league record.

The Cardinals scored their fifth triumph in six games Tuesday when Wally Moon's two-run double and a homer by Rip Repulski sparked them to a 5-2 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

The Cardinals were opposed today by the Milwaukee Braves who scored a 7-3 win Tuesday after spotting the Boston Red Sox three unearned runs in the first inning.

KELL READY AFTER SIDELINED FOR MONTH

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — Third baseman George Kell was scheduled to make his spring debut for the Chicago White Sox today when they meet the New York Yankees at Al Lang Field.

Kell, a key player for the White Sox this year, suffered a torn cartilage in his right knee last July 2 and was sidelined a month.

The White Sox were idle Tuesday while the Yankees pounded out a 9-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies. First baseman Bill Skowron led the Yankees' 11-hit attack with three consecutive doubles.

KANSAS CITY A'S STILL SEEK FIRST VICTORY

LAKELAND, Fla. — Manager Lou Boudreau had a right today to feel that he's seen the worst of it as the Kansas City Athletics sought their first victory of the spring in an exhibition game with the Detroit Tigers.

The Athletics suffered acute embarrassment Tuesday when they tried for victory No. 1 of 1955 against the Memphis Chicks of the Southern Association—and came off with nothing better than a 12-inning, 1-1 tie.

The Tigers bowed Tuesday to the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-2.

Today's Games in Sweet Sixteen Play

CHAMPAIGN — Today's first round games in the Sweet Sixteen:
1:45 p. m. Moline (26-2) vs. Princeton (30-1).
3:15 p. m. Rich Township (24-2) vs. Shawneetown (31-0).
7:30 p. m. Georgetown (22-8) vs. Elgin (23-3).
9 p. m. Galesburg (17-11) vs. Paris (27-6).

Snapshots of Sweet Sixteen

CHAMPAIGN — Snapshots of the Sweet Sixteen:
Rockford West is flooring the tallest starting lineup in the tournament, Paris the smallest.

Probable lineups for the Sweet Sixteen showed the Rockford starting five averages just under 6'4". To be exact, 6'3 3/4". Second is Elgin at 6'3 1/4" followed by Quincy at 6'2 5/8".

Only two teams average under six feet—Georgetown at 5'11 1/2" and Paris at 5'11 1/4". Seven teams average 6'2" or better.

Biggest starting players are Joe Ruklick of Princeton and Arthur Day of Chicago Marshall, both at 6'8". Smallest are three boys at 5'8"—Verle Austin of Georgetown, Carroll Fay of Galesburg, and James Johnson of Marshall.

Moline played six games during the regular season against teams that also wound up here, and won five of them. The Maroons beat Galesburg twice and Elgin, Quincy and Decatur once. The loss was to Rockford West in the season opener.

Five teams didn't meet any of the other championship contenders during the regular season. They are Princeton, Rich Township, Shawneetown, Peoria Spalding and Chicago Marshall. Marshall's 1954-55 schedule was played entirely against teams from the city of Chicago.

None of the teams paired together in the first round has met its foe previously this season.

Barney Genisio's Shawneetown five made the longest trip to Champaign—198 miles. Barney mortgaged his house to buy a station wagon to bring his team here in style.

If the luck of the Irish holds, the Lincoln Raiders will play against the Irish of Peoria Spalding Thursday—St. Patrick's Day.

Paris can field a brother act. Capt. Ezra Smithson is the hub of the Tiger attack while brother Gene Smithson is a guard who specializes in outshooting accuracy.

Alton's Redbirds hope to last a while now that they've won the school's first berth in the finals since 1918. Alton lost in the first round that year, and will be the underdog against Pinckneyville in Thursday night's second game.

Fight Results

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, 197, New York, knocked out Chuck Sauer, 188, Washington, D. C. (3).

TRENTON, N. J. — Gene Takach, 139 1/2, Trenton, N. J., outpointed Jimmy (Rocky) Sullivan, 136 1/2, Boston, Mass. (8).

CHICAGO: Virgil Akins, 148, St. Louis, stopped Tommy Maddox, 149, Chicago, (4).

Gavilan Favored In Match Tonight With Bobby Dykes

MIAMI, Fla. — Cuban Kid Gavilan, who says he's "definitely on my way back to the title," and lanky Bobby Dykes of Miami tangled tonight in a 10-round television bout.

The former welterweight champion ruled a slight 6-5 favorite to beat Dykes and continue his bid to regain the crown he lost to Johnny Saxton in Philadelphia last October.

Ted Williams To End Short 'Retirement'

MIAMI, Fla. — Ted Williams will end one of the shortest "retirements" in baseball history Saturday when he signs his sixth $100,000 contract with the Boston Red Sox.

Williams already has agreed to the terms with General Manager Joe Cronin, it was learned today, and will begin working out with the Red Sox almost immediately after the formal signing ceremony. The 36-year-old slugger has been working out privately and is in good physical condition.

Williams originally planned to report to the Red Sox at Sarasota, Fla., a bit earlier but was unable to wind up his personal affairs.

It was also learned that the Red Sox recently rejected an offer to trade Williams to the New York Yankees in exchange for outfielder Hank Bauer and infielder Gil McDougald. General Manager George Weiss' offer was contingent on the fact that Williams would continue to play.

While it was still a territory, when in Wyoming were given the right to vote.

Moline-Princeton Clash Opens Sweet 16 Play; Shawneetown Meets Rich Township in Second Tilt

PRINCETON WINS 60-58
Princeton eliminated Moline from the Sweet 16 cage finals today by winning the opening game of the tournament, 60-58.

Georgetown, another small school that isn't given much of a chance to survive the grueling meet, tackles Elgin of the Big Eight conference in tonight's opener. Galesburg takes on Paris in the second game.

Georgetown has one of the smallest teams of the Sixteen. It has only two players over six feet, center Kent Smith at 6-3 and forward Robert Duncan at 6-4. Elgin's starters average better than 6-3.

Galesburg and Paris both are making their first trips here in several years, and their meeting is rated a tossup.

Rockford West launches its Sweet Sixteen campaign in the first game Thursday, playing Decatur, co-champ of the Big 12. Other games Thursday are Peoria Spalding (22-5) vs. Lincoln (17-11), Quincy (19-8) vs. Marshall (20-2) and Pinckneyville (30-2) vs. Alton (24-7).

Lincoln Head Brick Made Half Century Ago

By TIMOTHEUS T.
Several days ago this newspaper carried a story about the Lincoln Head brick and today relates what a lot of persons knew—that they were made at the McIntire brick kilns at Equality a half century ago.

The earlier story told of children finding such a brick near Karber's Ridge and it was learned that a Lincoln Head brick is in a sidewalk on Dayton street in Harrisburg.

Then Monday morning the writer talked with Thad McIntire of Equality, who was in town with his nephew, James B. Reed, also of Equality.

Mr. McIntire said the Lincoln Head brick was made in 1903 or 1904 by an employee of McIntire and Son whose name was James Wheeler. Mr. Wheeler got hold of a brick with Lincoln's head on it, made him a mold out of babbitt and started pressing these bricks. He made and sold several hundred of them to people who used them for ornamental purposes.

Where the late Mr. Wheeler resided in Equality, now the home of Emory Bennett, there is quite a number of Lincoln Head bricks in the sidewalk leading to the house.

The Equality brick kilns were founded by Thad McIntire's father, William McIntire, who started his brick and tile business in Equality in 1897.

"Equality was quite a place back in those days," the son reminisced. The father in 1900 took his son, Thad, into the business with him and the business, which also sold other types of building materials, was called William McIntire and Son after that.

The making of brick and tile continued until 1915 and the next year the father died. His son continued the business until 1920. Since that time he has owned a 600 acre farm in Mountain township and has fished a lot at Round Pond, where he had a cabin from 1919 until 1952.

Back in the hey-day the brick and tile plant sold a lot of material, Mr. McIntire said. Besides Gallatin county the business had a big market in Hardin, Hamilton and Saline counties.

"The black land around Mascoutah and Belleville was drained with tile we shipped to them," he stated. Mr. Reed's mother and Mr. McIntire's father were brother and sister and Mr. Reed for years has operated a grocery business in Equality established by his father in 1895. Only this week he sold the store to J. T. Aud.

He reminisced, too, about the

$2,528 Received To Date in Red Cross Drive

A total of $2,528.41 has been reported in the Red Cross fund drive in Saline county, it was reported today by chapter workers.

Harrisburg chairman, Charlie Skaggs, reports $587.75; Eldorado chairman, Mrs. Bob Wettaw, reports $1,006 for Eldorado and stated Rector township had collected $50 which was double the quota; Leighman Walker, Carrier Mills chairman, reports $81.16; Mrs. Dillbeck and Mrs. Ready, chairmen for Raleigh, have completed the drive there with a total of $38.25; Herman McFarlin, Independence township chairman, reports $65.25 which exceeds the quota.

The Sahara Coal Company has donated a total of $1,000—$300 for the fund drive and $700 for the Blood program.

The county quota is $10,063.

The Executive Board of the Saline county chapter met Wednesday, March 9, at which time reports were made by Bruce Burnett, chapter chairman, and Al Adams, county fund drive chairman.

Mrs. L. B. Kimmel, chairman of Nursing services, reported that the Home Nursing room at the city hall will be ready by April to teach instructors in home care of the sick. Following the instructors class, classes will be open to the public when enough are enrolled.

First Aid chairman, Louie E. Beltz, reported that First Aid instructors' course was completed Feb. 25 and was taught by Ernie Goetz of the Midwestern area office. Mrs. Beltz, Water Safety chairman, has received information on the Water Safety schools. If any young people in Saline county, holding a senior life saving certificate, are interested in this course, the information is available at the Red Cross office at the court house. The chapter does not plan to send anyone this year but will be glad to recommend anyone eligible.

Jack Metten was appointed chairman of the annual meeting to be held the last of June.

Bob Kirchner, field representative from the Midwestern area office of the National Red Cross, spoke briefly at the meeting and commended the chapter of the local programs.

Board members expressed their appreciation for the publicity given the fund drive in the county.

Introduces Bill to Increase Pay of County Supervisors

SPRINGFIELD —The Illinois Legislature was asked today to increase pay of county supervisors from $10 a day to $12.

Rep. Harold W. Widmer (R-Freeport) introduced the bill and asked the House to put it on the calendar without reference to committee.

He failed, however. Objectors included Democrat Frank Holten, East St. Louis, who said counties are "broke" already without adding to their financial burdens.

Britain Slashes Nuclear Budget

LONDON (AP) — Britain slashed its nuclear budget today. A reliable source said the move confirmed that British scientists have learned how to build a "cheap" H-bomb.

The source also clarified Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden's cryptic statement Monday that it is possible to hold nuclear tests without noise.

What is meant, the source said, is that scientists have developed "paper" research on the H-bomb to such an advanced point that no explosion is needed until a final ultimate blast.

The vice president presides at cabinet meetings whenever the President is absent from Washington.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Synthetic Rubber Factory Sale Would Create Rubber Monopoly; Georgia Congressman Is Hell-Bent For Helping Monopoly; Texas Congressman Pleads For Small Business.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats took a long step toward throwing away two of their chief campaign issues—"giveaways" and helping small business—when a top Democrat, Congressman Carl Vinson of Georgia, bucked and bristled over giving a hearing to the Small Business Committee regarding the sale of 11 government-owned synthetic rubber factories.

Vinson was all set to join with the Ikeites in handing the synthetic rubber factories over to the big tire and oil companies when his fellow Democrat, Wright Patman of Texas, blew the whistle.

Patman, as chairman of the House Small Business committee, had prepared a resolution with his colleague, Sid Yates of Illinois, pointing to the unfairness of the synthetic rubber giveaway. But Chairman Vinson of the Armed Services committee didn't want to listen. He even challenged Patman's veracity, which to a Texan of integrity is tantamount to high treason.

"Mr. Patman, we are delighted to have you here this morning," the Georgian gushed as the hearings opened.

"Thank you, Mr. Chairman," replied Patman. "I shall make —" "Wait a minute," cut in Vinson. "Before you start, for the record, I want to find out—are you speaking in behalf of the Small Business Committee, or are you speaking in your individual capacity as a member of Congress?"

"My committee has had no time to call a meeting," replied Patman. "But I was assured by a majority of members of my committee that I could speak for them. In addition, I conferred with the ranking Republican member of my committee."

INSULTING A TEXAN
"I suggest that the names of the members who have authorized Mr. Patman to speak for them be inserted in the record," broke in Republican Congressman Bates of Massachusetts.

"Don't you think that is going very far, Mr. Chairman?" inquired Patman, angrily.

The meeting almost blew up at this point as several members, including Democrats Paul Kilday of Texas and Mel Price of Illinois, tried to be recognized by the chair.

"We will get along very well if everybody will be quiet," thundered Vinson.

"Do I understand that you are going to question the right of Mr. Patman to appear before this committee?" demanded Kilday.

"No, sir," sputtered Vinson. "Not at all. That wasn't even intimated by any question of mine."

"I am not too sure that it wasn't," rejoined Kilday of Texas. "What was the purpose of your question about his appearing for a majority of the Small Business Committee?"

"I just wanted the record to show that he is not appearing by direction of the committee, but rather in behalf of a majority of the committee," explained Vinson.

"Are you going to require him to corroborate himself by placing in the record the names of Small Business Committee members he is speaking for?" insisted Kilday.

"No," backed Vinson.

GAS STATION MONOPOLIES
Patman then explained how his resolution, prepared by the Small Business Committee, would stop the sale of the rubber factories on March 26 as now scheduled by Eisenhower. Supporting him, Congressman Yates presented a masterful report which impressed even hostile committee members.

Yates showed that under the Eisenhower rubber sale, 87½ per cent of all rubber production would be in the hands of the big four tire companies, who worked together to control the sale of tires.

Some of these synthetic rubber plants in order to have a competitive rubber market in the United States?

Georgia's Vinson came back with the stock query: "Why, then, shouldn't we do that in every other enterprise?"

"The difference is," replied Patman, "that in this case you are delivering lock, stock and barrel to the rubber industry, facilities that will be used against the taxpayers as a monopoly."

It takes a pretty good-sized corporation to run one of these plants, interjected Vinson. "As I visualize it, it is not in the sphere of small business. This is big business."

When Patman explained that small business had no way of getting "bank credit" to buy the synthetic plants, without some help from the government, Vinson yawned: "Oh, well."

"We find an agency of this government (Export-Import Bank) with $1,000,000,000 of capital stock, provided by the taxpayers," continued Patman, "that is making a loan for a steel mill in Argentina of $80,000,000, plus other advances for equipment that will bring the taxpayers' outlay up to close to $100,000,000 for that one plant in Argentina."

"If we are able to spend so much money to help other countries like Argentina build a steel mill, why shouldn't we be able to help our own small business to buy

State Commission Recommends Speed Limits

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The Illinois Motor Vehicle Laws Commission today recommended state speed limits of 65 miles per hour during daylight and 55 at night.

In a report to the Legislature after a two-year study, the commission urged passage of a "prima facie" speed limit law that would permit motorists to exceed the maximum speeds, if they could show driving conditions were such that their speed wasn't hazardous.

The commission recommended a 50-mile-per-hour limit for buses and 45 for trucks weighing more than 8,000 pounds. The present bus speed limit is 60. On all trucks, it is now 45.

The commission said the State Highway Division should be given the power to determine a "reasonable and safe prima facie speed limit greater or less" than the 65 and 55 on specific stretches of highways.

Democrats Protest State Dep't Plan to Open Yalta Papers on Secret Basis

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats fumed today over a State Department offer to open the long-secret papers on the Yalta conference to key congressional committees—but on a strictly confidential basis.

The department at first said it would send the politically explosive papers directly to the committees and to congressional chiefs of both parties. But this caused such a loud Democratic protest signals were suddenly switched.

Several Democrats said they didn't want to see the papers as long as they bore a secrecy label. And two committee chairmen said flatly they would refuse to accept the papers under such terms.

As Democratic protests mounted, the department changed plans. It said it still would open the papers to the committees—and still on a confidential basis—but only if the committees ask to see the documents.

GOP Criticized Yalta
Whether the Democratic-controlled committees will do so was uncertain. Chairman Walter F. George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee indicated his group would discuss the matter at a closed-door session today.

Republicans have criticized the Yalta agreement strongly, charging that it paved the way for Communist control of the Far East. The World War II agreement, signed by former President Roosevelt, British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and former Soviet Premier Josef Stalin, pledged Russia to enter the war against Japan soon after the surrender of Germany.

In return, the United States and Britain agreed to recognize Russia's occupation of Outer Mongolia and to give the Soviet Union South Sakhalin Island, the Kurile Islands and an interest in Manchurian railroads.

Kitchen Precution Prevents Accidents

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Accidents in the kitchen, one of the most hazardous spots in the house, can be avoided. It just means a few everyday precautions, says Helen Becker, rural health specialist at the University of Nebraska.

Some of her suggestions: Turn handles of cooking utensils to the back of the stove. Keep knives and other sharp instruments from children.

Use a safe step ladder to reach high shelves and other difficult storage places.

All electric appliances near the sink should be grounded. Electric cords, switches and plugs should be in good condition.

Brown bears and moose in Alaska have been recorded at a weight of more than 1600 pounds.

Communist China Claims Population Over 600 Million

HONGKONG (AP)—Communist China claims that there are more than 600,000,000 Chinese.

The official Communist organ, the "People's Daily of Peking," said recently that the Communist central census registration office had told a Central People's Government Council meeting that China has a population of 601,912,371.

According to the report, the Red Chinese census office derived the latest figure from its "preliminary estimates" conducted June 30, 1953. The figure, the report said, includes overseas Chinese and the population on the Nationalist-held island of Formosa.

Communists said the new figure was partly the result of careful "indirect investigation" and "close estimates" conducted during the recent nation-wide preparations for elections of people's representatives by universal suffrage.

The Communist claim represents an increase of more than 50,000,000 over earlier Communist estimates.

Freshen wax flowers by dipping them in alcohol and swabbing them with a soft, small paint brush.

mates and far surpasses the all-time Nationalist Chinese claim of 450,000,000.

Previously, China has never had an exact "official" figure on its population.

Between 1950 and 1953 Red China announced five different population figures.

Red China first gave its "estimates" of China's population in May, 1950, as 482,869,687. In June the same year, this "estimate" was increased to 492,530,000 by the headquarters of the Chinese People's Liberation Army.

Apparently, noticing the conflicting figures, the committee of finance and economy in 1951 placed the population at "more than 490,000,000."

Two years later, in August, 1953, two months after the central census registration office reported it had concluded its "preliminary estimates" thus claiming the present more than 600,000,000 population, the official Communist Chinese map-making agency said China had a population of 545,156,042. This figure is contained in the latest edition of the "Provincial Atlas of the People's Republic of China."

The Chinese Nationalist Government during its prime days had never earnestly counted every Chinese under its rule. It accounted the rough estimate of 450,000,000 as the "official" population figure of China. The estimate was made in 1926.

Rural Mail Carrier Wayman Presley Has Big Ideas and Does Things in a Big Way

By ALFRED LEECH
United Press Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO (AP)—For a rural mail carrier Wayman Presley has big ideas. And he does big things.

Right now he's working on a campaign to raise three million dollars to build the world's biggest cross on top of Bald Knob Mountain in southern Illinois.

Presley was the force behind establishing the University of Southern Illinois.

And he probably had more to do with ridding the area of labor racketeering than anyone else.

But he still delivers mail six days a week, and despite his varied civic activities he has found time to raise four youngsters. He sums up his homespun philosophy this way:

"It doesn't matter how little you are or how little money you've got. You never know what you can do until you get out and try."

Joined Air Force

Presley, 57, lives in Makanda, Ill., a village of 250. He was born in a log shack, the son of a tenant farmer with six other children.

He borrowed $5 from his grandfather and went to Carbondale as a youth to enroll in the teachers' college there, paying his tuition with his earnings as a rural school teacher.

But after a couple of years he quit to join the air force in World War I.

During the depression Presley borrowed school buses and organized tours for youngsters who had no other amusement. He took them through the woods and to historic spots, and he fed them at CCC camps at 14 cents a meal.

Charles Jewel, a Chicago insurance executive in southern Illinois on business, was impressed by Presley's good works, and told the mail carrier:

"If you ever need any help, let me know."

Presley took him up on it. For years southern Illinois had wanted to expand Carbondale Teachers' College into a university. But Chicago and the rest of the state defeated each attempt in the State Legislature.

On Presley's urging Jewel got Chicago businessmen and its state legislators behind the proposal. The bill passed in 1941.

In recent years labor racketeering threatened southern Illinois' economy and hamstrung construction of atomic energy installations at Joppla, Ill., and Kevil, Ky.

Presley, who believes in starting at the top, borrowed money for a trip to Washington and asked officials of the Justice Department and Atomic Energy Commission to intervene.

Set Up Foundation

A federal grand jury investigation ensued, indictments were returned and convictions obtained. Years ago Presley and others set up a foundation to buy several acres atop Bald Knob Mountain, where annual Easter services have been held since 1937.

But nobody had any money, so Presley went to the bank of Marion, Ill., and borrowed $10,000 without security. The foundation collected enough to repay the loan.

Presley thought the General Federation of Women's Clubs might help raise the three million dollars for the cross. So he borrowed some more money, went to Washington and enlisted the support of the organization's president, Mrs.

Theodore S. Chapman. Construction is due to begin this summer on a cross that will tower 500 feet into the sky.

"It will be a symbol of faith for the whole country," Presley said.

"I can't talk around the facts"

Problem Driver Is All-round Problem

DETROIT (AP)—A man who has studied problem drivers for more than 20 years takes issue with the popular belief that mild-mannered persons often turn into reckless menaces when they slide behind the steering wheel of an automobile.

Alan Canty, executive director of the psychopathic clinic of Detroit's recorder's court, said it just doesn't happen.

Any problem driver is also a social misfit when he's not behind the steering wheel, according to Canty. The symptoms might just be harder to find when the problem driver is away from the car, he explained.

Canty has studied drivers since the early 1930's. Since October, 1936, he has headed Detroit's special psychopathic traffic division. The division, until recently the only one of its kind in the nation, studies problem drivers brought before traffic judges.

Don't Blame Auto
"The chronic violator is a social problem child," Canty said. "His traffic misbehavior is but a symptom of his personality maladjustment."

The same factors which cause marital unhappiness, divorce and separations, frequent job changes, economic distress and unhealthy recreational activities contribute to his contempt for the social and legal conventions as exemplified by his chronic defiance of the traffic laws.

"If automobiles had never been invented, most of our violation-prone drivers would still be recognizable as problem children in our society through their inability to conform to the social and legal conventions."

"The automobile has by no means created a new and distinct kind of problem child who is a problem child only when he is behind the wheel."

Groom-to-be Attends Shower for Fiancee

PRATT, Kan. — When Don Stevens' fiancee, Carolyn Kaier of Wichita, became ill with the flu, he substituted for her at a shower given by a group of local women. He attended the otherwise all-female party, opened the gifts and, as the hostess described it, "graciously stayed through the tea hour and what would have been a reception for Miss Kaier."

North Dakota and South Dakota were admitted to the Union on the same date, November 2, 1889.

OUT OUR WAY

The Daily Register, Harrisburg, Illinois

THE STORY: When Johnny Fletcher and Sam Cragg skip-tracked Alice Cummings, showgirl, who owed on a cheap fur coat, they became suspects in the murder of Jess Carmichael III who was found slain in her apartment. Alice had given Johnny a goose bank containing some old coins to settle the bill. Now she wants the bank back.

XV

The door of Room 821 was unlocked, which was not unusual, since the maids were in and out with their cleaning and linens. But when Johnny pushed open the door, he let out a low whistle.

The beds were stripped, the blankets and sheets thrown on the floor. The drawers of the single dresser were open and the contents dumped on the floor. The carpet had even been torn loose.

Two minutes' search convinced them that the limping goose bank was not in the room.

The door opened and Eddie Miller came into the room. Eddie was the bell captain of the Forty-Fifth Street Hotel, a sharp little man in his mid-thirties who knew all the answers and had invented many of the questions.

"Termite?" he asked, looking around.

"Big ones," replied Johnny.

Eddie nodded. "I know you're in the middle of a caper, Mr. Fletcher, what with the law coming here last night and Mr. Peabody prancing and smirking. And things going on."

Johnny shook his head. "We're broke."

"Well, that's normal for you. You've always done right by me when you had it. So this is for free. I mean until you get back into the chips. Some people been asking me about you."

"People?"

"First two, then one. The two"—Eddie gestured about the room—"I guess they're the ones did this. One slipped me 50 cents, but I told him it was worth my job to give out a guest's room number. So the other guy gave me a buck."

"And you gave them the room number?"

"They could have got it at the desk. For that, Haskins, the day clerk, would give them a guest's key."

"How much do you charge for a key?"

Eddie grinned. "I held out for five. After all, your tux is at the ah, cleaners, isn't it? Along with your overcoat and your other suits. They—they didn't swipe anything, did they?"

"A piggy bank, that's all," said Sam Cragg.

Eddie's face fell. "I didn't know you had anything in here worth while."

"Oh, this wasn't worth much, Eddie," said Johnny easily. "Just a man's life, that's all. You've got to make a living, too. What about the other one who came later?"

"Harry Planagan. He didn't know that I knew him, but he stayed here a week, four years ago."

"What's he do for a living?"

Eddie grinned. "You want a crap game, Harry'll fix it for you. You want to buy a diamond ring, Harry'll get it for you wholesale."

"What'd he want to know about me?"

"He seemed to think you were a private eye or something. He let it out that you were investigating a friend of his."

"He mention the name?"

"Uh-uh, but it's a babe."

The phone rang. Johnny stepped to the bed and scooped it up. "Hello!"

The voice of James Sutton said, "Mr. Fletcher? Glad I caught you in. I've been thinking over our little deal. I've decided not to go ahead."

"You can't quit now," Johnny cried in sudden desperation. "I've got something for you."

"Tell me now."

"I can't, over the phone. I'll be there in 10 minutes."

Ten minutes later he entered the Barbizon-Waldorf. He went to a house phone. After a moment, Sutton answered.

"Johnny Fletcher. I'm downstairs."

There was a slight hesitation. "Room 3422, but don't come up for 10 minutes."

Johnny hung up and walked to the elevators.

The door was opened instantly by James Sutton. "I said 10 minutes."

"My watch is stopped," said Johnny. "When the ordinary investigator is guzzling his beer, or making a night of it, I'm working. I work all the time, during the day, at night. So, last night, about 2 a. m. I said to myself, suppose I was Lester Smithson, the nephew of a man who owns 2200 grocery stores. Suppose I had a cousin who was the son of the man who had 2200 grocery stores; ordinarily he'd be the man who'd inherit the grocery stores. Instead of selling groceries, he was interested in buying mink coats for chorus girls. Everybody knows there's nothing that keeps a chorus girl so warm as a fine set of pelts. I got nothing against the idea, personally . . . and the son of a man who has 2200 grocery stores can't be expected to be spending his time weighing out sugar and coffee."

"No," said Sutton, "of course not."

"On the other hand," Johnny went on, "if you're only a cousin of a man who owns 2200 grocery stores, that's a horse of a different feather. What can this cousin do to show his uncle what a fine man he is? Especially if said uncle started out in life as a poor grocery clerk?"

"He wasn't a grocery clerk," said Sutton. "He was a telegraph operator."
